Keeping Local Control as a South Plains Electric Cooperative Director Retires

LUBBOCK, TX – Glenn Jones of Kalgary retired from the Cooperative Board with 41 years of service. Jones is a rancher and retired from the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. He served 17 years on the former Dickens Electric Cooperative Board as vice president. Since Dickens EC merged with South Plains Electric Cooperative in 1999, Jones has continued to serve the membership on the board. He is a Credentialed Cooperative Director as certified by NRECA and has his NRECA Board Leadership Certificate. He has also served on the Brazos Electric Cooperative Board for over 17 years and served on the San Miguel Electric Cooperative Board.

Jamie McNeill, of Crosbyton, was elected to the Cooperative Board and will represent District 9, replacing Jones. Jamie McNeill, from Crosby County, graduated from Crosbyton High School and attended Texas Tech University where he earned his bachelor's degree. He has been a self-employed rancher for over 30 years. Jamie is married to Jonna, and they have five children: Lindsay, Lauren, Lana, Cooper and Cortni. Jamie has prior professional experience with the Lubbock Livestock Sale Barn and the Hockley County Feed yard. He is involved with the Crosby County Appraisal District where he serves on the ag committee and is a member of the Methodist Church.
